

Southeastern blueberry bee (Habropoda laboriosa), pictured on a blueberry bloom, feeds primarily on blueberry species. It is found from New England to Florida and west to Illinois and Mississippi. According to BugGuide, “It is estimated that each female visits nearly 50,000 Vaccinium ashei [rabbiteye blueberry] flowers in its lifetime.”

© Judy Gallagher CC BY 2.0